UN Decade for Action “Water for Life” 2005–2015

The United Nations proclaimed the period 2005-2015 as the International Decade for Action, "Water for Life".

The aim is to recommit countries to achieve the water related targets of the Johannesburg Plan of Implementation from the 2002 World Summit on Sustainable Development as well as the United Nations Millennium Development Goals set in 2000.

The IAEA, through its Water Resources Programme, is responding to global water challenges, providing its Member States with science based information and technical skills to better understand and manage their water resources.
